 144 MHz SPORADIC E - Date 2010-06-14 **

Two big openings. The first opening was between 4X4 and YU and out of reach for most stations. The second one had two reflection areas JN92 and JN30. Nice to see that 7X was worked and many worked into SV9 and SV5. Have a look to:
http://www.mmmonvhf.de/es.php?year=2010&month=06&day=14 A very nice VIDEO did send Raimund, DG9MAQ, to MMMonVHF - he was able to work SV9CVY from his /mobil station - have a look at his

 WSJT BETA 8 **

New FORUM Place on your VHF-DX-Portal MMMonVHF PLEASE do use and welcome the new FORUM Place on your MMMonVHF: http://www.mmmonvhf.de/minibb/index.php?action=vtopic&forum=14 to have some hints, have some coment and have some discussion platform about NEW and OLD versions of WSJT!
As you might have seen there are several tests going on with the BETA version of WSJT 8 - PLEASE ee aware that WSJT7 and WSJT8 modes ARE NOT COMPATIBLE!!! So if you wonna take part in that tests pse do announce it clear that you are running WSJT 8 and searching for partners looking for the same - WJST 7 (and earlier) USER might otherwise copy your signal and have no chance for decoding...

 70 MHz DEMONSTRATION in Italy **

First of all let me present you my apologies for dealing here with something that is not strictly related to the 50-MHz band, but considering that 70-MHz operators are also 50-MHz operators and that the UKSMG announcements represent an invaluable opportunity for information spreading, I take the liberty to inform the VHF enthusiasts that on the early afternoon of June 24th, starting at about 12:00 UTC, we shall have a 70-MHz demonstration to University and Telecom Ministry staff. Some tests may be carried out during the morning too. The station will be located at ESRIN, the Italian Rome-based establishment of the European Space Agency, whose club station holds the call IZ0FEJ. We seek cooperation from any one for showing the operation of the JT6 mode, beyond sporadic-E SSB & CW contacts (if propagation will assist us). So, we must be sure that somebody will be present at the other end of the link.
Operating frequency will be 70.210 MHz and we may QSY to 70.310 if band will be too crowded. We will also try to be on the ON4KST chat for coordination. Thanks in advance for help.

BV2A (PL05SH) : Next activities on 144 MHz EME LATEST NEWS from Bodo, DL3OCH, dated 2010-06-22: Dear EME friends, the BV2A crew will have their next EME activity on next Saturday.
We hope to work many of you. The setup will be almost identical to last time, but a bit improved. We have a 17element yagi and around 350W (at antenna). We will use BV2A and our grid is PL05SH. Look out for us somewhere around the 144.110 in JT65B first. We will be QRV from Saturday 1100UTC-2100UTC. We will focus on our moon rise and moon set time to get some NA and EU in the log. Unfortunately the window is pretty limited but we hope to get some QSOs in the log. For those that worked us already last time, the QSL is via Bruce BV2KI. vy 73 SOURCE: Bodo, BW/DL3OCH (direct to MMMonVHF)

The Gambia (C5) in the air on HF and 6m (and 2m Tropo) soon LATEST NEWS from Arliss, W7XU, dated 2010-06-23: Three of our group (W0SD, W0OE and N0QJM) are leaving for Banjul, The Gambia, this morning (23 June). We hope the first 3 can be on the air on the 25th (6 meters, primarily), on 50.103. They have to pick up the license on the 25th, so depending on how long that takes, we may not be operational until the 26th. We will not know the callsign until we pick up the license. We received several requests to bring 2 meters along for attempts at tropo contacts We will have 170 watts on that band and a 9-el yagi. From what we have been told about conditions there, our 2 meter efforts will be mainly after dark.Whether or not we will have full time internet access is not known at this time. Even if you hear us on HF, someone will always be listening/beaconing on 6m (some people questioned us on that last year). I am not positive of the locator, but I believe it will be IK13pl.

 ACTIVATING DL88 and DL89 on 50 MHz **

LATEST NEWS from the Team, dated 2010-06-22: Hello to all on the list....the K5N group is finalizing our trip to DL88 and DL89. We have acquired an old TV van with the pneumatic mast and are almost done with the preparations on the truck. We will be traveling on June 28th using K5QE/R as the call. We expect to be operational at DL88 on June 29th about Noon. We will operate on 50.150 MHz for both SSB/CW and FSK441(in the evenings after Es is closed). Rig will be a Pro2, a 250W amp, and a M2 6M5XHP. We will leave DL88 at 3PM on July 1 and begin the long drive out. We will set up in DL89xw for only one day on July 2nd. On July 3rd, we will be driving home, signing K5QE/R as we go. We will have NO Internet and NO cell phones, however, we have arranged with some members of the BBARC to post messages for us on some of the Internet forums. They will be posting on Ping Jockey Central when we are doing meteor scatter. We will be posting on ON4KST and the FFMA reflector at other times. It will REALLY HELP if you guys will post us to your favorite forum when you hear us. That will keep other stations aware of what is happening. Especially let everyone know when we change from SSB/CW to FSK. Thanks for that. The K5N Group is hoping for a big operation and we hope we can work everyone that needs DL88/89. If we get some great propagation, like we had in the June contest, we will work a lot of stations. GL to everyone....

NOTE: ALL WSJT operations will be on WSJT7. 73 The K5N Act.Group
